

Regarding tender:

Naturrisiko i Norden – fra forståelse til handling

Nr. 10649

Deadline for tender questions: 09-10-2026

The following questions were submitted before the deadline:

1. Do the Nordic Council of Ministers' standard terms and conditions apply to the project, or does Umhvørvisstovan use its own contract templates? Would it be possible to obtain a draft contract, or have information about the contract terms added to the call page?

As a rule, the Nordic Council of Ministers' standard terms and conditions are attached to the contract. However, Umhvørvisstovan enters into the contract, and it may contain deviations from the Standard Terms and Conditions.

For this call, the following specific deviations can be confirmed at this time:

1. No separate agreement on overhead is required, and overheads do not need to be itemised. Applicants may instead use an hourly rate in line with their standard rates for similar assignments. We recommend specifying the hourly rates for those involved.
2. Reports do not need to be submitted through the Nordic Council of Ministers' web portal. The Nordic Nature Programme uses its own reporting templates.

It is not possible to provide a formal draft contract, but the following provisions will be important:

- At least one progress report, a final report and an auditor-certified final financial statement will be required.
- Payment will normally be made in three instalments, following: (1) signature of the contract; (2) approval of the progress report; and (3) approval of the final report and final financial statement.
- Any bank charges will be deducted from the instalment payments.
- The contract will state that reports funded by the Nordic Council of Ministers as the main contributor must be published through NordPub. The requirement to publish through NordPub (TemaNord) is also set out in the call documents.

2. Do you publish questions from applicants, together with the answers, on the call page?

9 October is the final deadline for questions. After that date, no further questions about the call may be submitted, except for questions regarding technical clarification. All questions received by 9 October, together with their answers, will be published anonymously via Keyportal as soon as possible thereafter.
